

Doctoral Program Faculty and Leaders Learning Community (DPFLLC)

Vision

The Doctoral Program Faculty and Leaders Learning Community promotes an exchange of ideas between faculty and leaders who work in doctoral programs in leadership. The discussion of these ideas will enhance members' ability to develop stewards of the leadership discipline and subsequently advance leadership at all levels.

Mission

This Learning Community recognizes that teaching, advising, and guiding research diverge at the doctoral level from other levels of higher education. While the Learning Community enhances the knowledge and practice of individuals working in existing doctoral programs in leadership, it is also a community that welcomes academicians from universities considering the establishment of a doctoral program in leadership and for those working in doctoral programs related to leadership.
