

Philosophy, Religion and Worldviews Learning Community (PRW-LC)

Why a Philosophy, Religion and Worldviews LC?

Philosophy, religion and worldviews touch the very core of human experience and address the assumptions people make about life. These assumptions structure people's leadership theories and practices, often resulting in unevaluated consequences and implications. Evaluating leadership theories and practices at the most basic level will generate greater insights to the intersection of leadership with culture.

The PRW-LC encourages philosophers and religious leaders to actively participate in ILA as a means to hone their leadership skills for use in their respective spheres of influence and provide corresponding insights to ILA members.

August 2015