Call for Presentations

The conference promotes interdisciplinary dialogue for leaders to gain a deeper understanding and appreciation of the various assumptions that shape the human experience with the goal to better promote human flourishing. Another major goal of this conference is to develop collaborative projects that will equip leaders to practice empathetic leadership that connects to the essence of the human experience.

Questions and topics include:

- What does it mean to be a human?
- How is human flourishing promoted?
- How are human values determined?
- How do humans interact?
- What is the goal of communication?

300 word abstracts should be submitted by FEBRUARY 8, 2018. Please email submissions to jshoup@calbaptist.edu. Submittals should be double spaced, APA format, and include: author(s), affiliation, email address, title of abstract, body of abstract, and key words. E-mail subject line should be titled: PRWL Abstract Submission.
